MANGA WANGA UNIVERSE

GLOBAL INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS, COPYRIGHT & OWNERSHIP DECLARATION

MANGA WANGA | ONE SURVIVES | TOKYO BLACK CATS

Official Website: www.mangawanga.com
Rights Holder: 2G Environmental Ltd, trading as Moose Brain Studio, London, United Kingdom
Effective Date: September 01 2026

1. Statement of Intellectual Property Ownership

The Manga Wanga Universe is an original entertainment and intellectual property franchise developed and produced under the creative direction of Moose Brain Studio.

The Manga Wanga Universe encompasses an expanding portfolio of original entertainment properties, including MANGA WANGA, ONE SURVIVES and TOKYO BLACK CATS, together with their associated creative works, audiovisual productions, characters, music, branding, designs, promotional materials and commercial developments.

Except where expressly identified as third-party material, all intellectual property rights in original content owned by or validly assigned to the Rights Holder are reserved.

This declaration applies to original content displayed, published, streamed, distributed, promoted or otherwise made available through www.mangawanga.com and official Manga Wanga channels, platforms and authorised commercial partners.

2. Protected Creative Works and Intellectual Property

The Rights Holder asserts its applicable intellectual property rights in the original creative works and materials comprising the Manga Wanga Universe, including:

- Characters and character designs: Original character illustrations, visual identities, costumes, appearances, distinctive character elements, biographies and associated original artwork.
- Scripts and literary works: Original screenplays, dialogue, episode scripts, written narratives, storyboards, character biographies and production documentation.
- Visual artwork: Original illustrations, manga-style artwork, comic panels, posters, promotional graphics, animation assets, backgrounds, concept art and digital designs.
- Audiovisual productions: Original micro-dramas, episodes, animated sequences, trailers, promotional films, video edits and associated audiovisual materials.

- Branding and identifiers: The names, logos, stylised lettering, distinctive graphic identities, slogans and other identifiers associated with the franchise, to the extent protected by applicable trademark, copyright or other laws.
- Music and sound: Original musical compositions, lyrics, sound recordings, arrangements, performances, sound designs and associated audiovisual productions, to the extent owned or licensed by the Rights Holder.
- Digital content: Original website text, layouts, graphics, promotional content, downloadable materials and other copyright-protected digital assets.

The franchise also includes original fictional settings, character relationships, dramatic developments, creative combinations and production elements. Protection applies to their qualifying original expression and other legally protectable elements, rather than to abstract ideas, general themes, genres or concepts alone.

3. MANGA WANGA — Original Martial Arts Micro-Drama Universe

MANGA WANGA is the flagship entertainment property within the Manga Wanga Universe.

Set within an international martial arts environment, it features original fictional characters, dramatic storylines, rivalries, relationships, visual designs, scripted episodes and interconnected entertainment narratives.

The Rights Holder reserves its applicable rights in original MANGA WANGA creative material, including the specific expression of its characters, scripts, audiovisual productions, artwork, character designs, storylines, distinctive branding and associated franchise assets.

Unauthorised copying, reproduction, distribution, adaptation, commercial exploitation or creation of substantially infringing derivative works from protected MANGA WANGA content is prohibited.

This statement does not claim exclusive rights over martial arts disciplines, generic martial arts themes, standard narrative devices or independently created works that do not infringe protected rights.

4. ONE SURVIVES — Martial Arts Tournament Entertainment Property

ONE SURVIVES is an entertainment property associated with the Manga Wanga Universe and its martial arts competition narrative.

The Rights Holder reserves its applicable rights in original ONE SURVIVES materials, including its original branding, logos, tournament-related scripts, fictional participants, artwork, graphics, audiovisual productions, promotional presentations and other qualifying creative elements.

These rights may extend to original tournament-related entertainment content, sponsorship presentations, licensed merchandise, promotional campaigns and future audiovisual productions.

No ownership is claimed over the general idea of a martial arts tournament, standard sporting rules, common competition formats or other elements that are not independently protectable.

Any commercial use of protected ONE SURVIVES branding or original content requires appropriate authorisation from the relevant rights holder.

5. TOKYO BLACK CATS — Fictional Music and Entertainment Property

TOKYO BLACK CATS is an original fictional music and entertainment property within the Manga Wanga Universe.

The Rights Holder reserves its applicable rights in original TOKYO BLACK CATS material, including its distinctive fictional characters and character designs, original artwork, visual branding, scripted performances, music videos, promotional materials and associated merchandise designs.

Original musical compositions, lyrics, master recordings and performances are protected to the extent that the relevant rights are owned by or licensed to the Rights Holder.

Music publishing rights, master recording rights, performer rights and other related rights may be held separately and remain subject to applicable agreements.

No licence to reproduce, sample, remix, synchronise, distribute, commercially exploit or otherwise use protected TOKYO BLACK CATS music or audiovisual content is granted merely by its appearance on this website.

6. Trademark Rights and Brand Protection

MANGA WANGA, ONE SURVIVES, TOKYO BLACK CATS and associated distinctive logos and brand identifiers are claimed as commercial identifiers of their respective entertainment properties, subject to applicable law and existing third-party rights.

The MANGA WANGA brand has been identified by the Rights Holder as the subject of trademark registrations in the United Kingdom and United States.

Registered trademark status, ownership, covered goods and services, and geographical scope are determined by the relevant official trademark registers.

The symbols ® and ™ will be used only as appropriate to the registration status and applicable laws of each territory.

Nothing on this website grants any right to use protected brand names, registered marks, distinctive logos or confusingly similar commercial identifiers without authorisation.

7. International Copyright Protection

Original copyright-protected works within the Manga Wanga Universe may benefit from protection under the copyright laws of individual countries and applicable international treaties, including:

- The Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works.
- The WIPO Copyright Treaty.
- The WIPO Performances and Phonograms Treaty, where applicable.
- The Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS).

International treaties facilitate recognition and protection of qualifying works across participating jurisdictions. They do not create a single worldwide copyright registration or guarantee identical remedies in every country.

The Rights Holder reserves all rights available under applicable national and international laws.

8. Artificial Intelligence and Digital Production

Certain Manga Wanga Universe productions may incorporate artificial intelligence-assisted tools, computer-generated imagery, digital animation, virtual production, original human-authored scripts, creative direction and post-production techniques.

The Rights Holder asserts rights in original human-authored material, protectable audiovisual works, creative contributions, validly assigned rights and other subject matter eligible for protection under applicable law.

The use of artificial intelligence in production does not itself establish copyright ownership or guarantee that every AI-generated element qualifies for copyright protection.

All third-party software, models, licensed materials and production tools remain subject to their respective terms and rights.

9. Restrictions on Unauthorised Use

Except where permitted by applicable law or expressly authorised in writing, visitors and third parties must not:

- Copy, reproduce, republish, redistribute, sell or commercially exploit protected original content.
- Download, extract or reuse protected images, scripts, videos, music, character artwork or production assets for unauthorised purposes.
- Produce unauthorised merchandise or commercial products incorporating protected franchise content or branding.
- Present protected material as their own or falsely claim ownership, authorship, endorsement or affiliation.
- Use protected original material to produce infringing adaptations, imitations or derivative works.

- Use protected content for commercial AI model training, dataset creation or automated content generation without the relevant permission, except where applicable law permits such activity notwithstanding this restriction.
- Register or commercially use confusingly similar brand identifiers in a manner that infringes applicable trademark or other legal rights.

These restrictions do not override statutory exceptions, fair dealing, fair use or other mandatory rights under applicable law.

10. No Implied Licence

Access to this website, viewing an episode, listening to music or interacting with official social media content does not transfer intellectual property ownership or grant a commercial licence.

All rights not expressly granted are reserved.

Any authorised use must comply with the terms of the relevant written agreement or applicable platform licence.

11. Licensing, Distribution and Commercial Partnerships

Moose Brain Studio welcomes legitimate commercial enquiries relating to:

- International television, streaming and micro-drama distribution.
- Entertainment and audiovisual licensing.
- Music publishing, distribution and synchronisation.
- Character and brand merchandising.
- Sponsorship and promotional partnerships.
- Gaming, publishing, comics and interactive entertainment.
- Territory-specific franchise development.

Any licence, assignment, distribution agreement, merchandising agreement or other commercial exploitation arrangement must be separately negotiated and documented in writing by an authorised rights holder.

12. Intellectual Property Infringement and Enforcement

The Rights Holder reserves the right to investigate suspected infringement and pursue appropriate legal remedies, including requests for removal of infringing material, platform complaints, contractual remedies and legal proceedings where justified.

Nothing in this declaration limits any rights or remedies available under applicable law.

Anyone who believes that material on this website infringes their rights may submit a notice identifying the relevant material, the rights concerned and sufficient information to permit investigation.

13. Third-Party Rights

All third-party trademarks, music, images, technologies, platform names and other materials remain the property of their respective owners.

References to third-party companies, sporting organisations, entertainment platforms or commercial brands do not imply sponsorship, endorsement, affiliation or partnership unless expressly stated.

14. Copyright and Rights Reservation

© 2026 2G Environmental Ltd trading as Moose Brain Studio. All rights reserved.

MANGA WANGA, ONE SURVIVES, TOKYO BLACK CATS and associated original entertainment content are subject to applicable copyright, trademark, contractual and other intellectual property protections.

No unauthorised commercial reproduction, distribution, adaptation, licensing, merchandising or exploitation of protected material is permitted.
